The American Rescue Plan (ARP) Act of 2021 includes $1.9 trillion in total funding.

There are many aspects of the ARP that affect employees, both at work, or if they become unemployed, as well in worker’s access to childcare, education, housing, healthcare, and more. The following is the Council of State Government’s (CSG) summary of the major provisions of the bill that affect employees.

Direct Stimulus Payments
The ARP provides a third round of direct-payment stimulus checks to eligible recipients.

- Individuals with incomes of $75,000 or less will receive $1,400 (plus $1,400 for each eligible dependent).
  - Those earning more than $75,000 will receive less, individuals earning $80,000 or more do not receive support.
  - For married couples with total yearly income of $150,000 or less, each spouse receives $1,400.
  - Phases out for couples earning $160,000 or more per year.

Unemployment Insurance Support
ARP extends the three major unemployment insurance programs initially created by the CARES Act.

- The Pandemic Unemployment Assistance (PUA) program for workers who are not traditionally eligible for unemployment insurance (such as independent contractors).
  - The PUA program has been extended through 9/6/2021.
  - The number of eligibility weeks increased from 50 to 79 weeks.
- Pandemic Emergency Unemployment Compensation (PEUC) provides additional weeks of unemployment insurance benefits to individuals who have exhausted their state unemployment benefits.
  - The PEUC program has been extended through 9/6/2021.
  - Additionally, the ARP increases eligibility weeks from 24 to 53 weeks.
- The Federal Pandemic Unemployment Compensation (FPUC) program supplement of $300 per week (on top of state UI or PUA/PEUC benefits) is extended through 9/6/2021.
- Taxes Relief for Unemployment: The ARP makes the first $10,200 of unemployment benefits untaxed for 2020 for recipients who earn less than $150,000 per year. For those who have already filed, the IRS will automatically adjust your taxes (you do not need to file an amended return).
Childcare and K-12 Schools

The ARP includes $39 billion for childcare, including nearly $24 billion for Child Care Stabilization grants and nearly $15 billion for the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG) program.

• This funding will help sustain an estimated 449,000 childcare providers who are serving a total of 7.3 million children.

• The ARP provides $123 billion in emergency funds for K-12 schools to safely reopen and address learning loss due to the pandemic.

• Summer enrichment, distance learning, Head Start, education technology, services for homeless students, and support for disabled students all receive support.

Housing Assistance

• $5 billion to assist people experiencing homelessness.

• $5 billion for Emergency Housing Vouchers.

• $100 million for rural rental assistance.

Healthcare

The Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (COBRA) gives workers who lose their health benefits the ability to continue group health benefits for a limited time under certain circumstances.

• The ARP adds support to COBRA by creating a health benefits premium subsidy of 100% for eligible recipients from 4/1/2021 to 9/30/2021.

• Workers who have been laid off, furloughed, or had their hours reduced are eligible.

Affordable Care Act exchanges allow Americans to purchase health insurance.

• The ARP provides premium subsidies for purchasing health insurance on the ACA exchanges through 2022. The subsidies reduce as income increases.

• The ARP also caps individual costs for health insurance purchased on an exchange at 8.5 percent of their income.

Mental Health: The ARP includes $3.88 billion to expand investments made to increase availability of treatment for mental health issues, to help cover increased demand in the pandemic.

Funeral Assistance: The ARP sets aside money for extending the funeral assistance program created in the last COVID relief package. This money can reimburse those who lost a loved one to COVID-19 for common funeral expenses.

Federal Contractors: The ARP extends CARES Act Section 3610 through 9/30/2021. This provision reimburses federal contractors for paid leave that they provide to employees who are unable to work due to the pandemic.

Multiemployer Pension Plans: The ARP establishes a fund to provide financial assistance to “critical and declining” pension plans so that benefits continue through 2051.
